STARTING THE STOVE:

- * Open (put in the vertical) the "smoke outlet" valve.
- * Do not remove the ash in the combustion chamber. Don't worry just move it a bit to the side.
- * Put a fire cube (lit) at the back end of the stove.
- * Add some pieces of small wood and close the inner door. Leave the external door open.
- * After a minute: Add larger pieces and close the inner door. Leave the external door open
- * After 10 minutes: Add big pieces until the stove is completely full and close the interior and exterior door.
- * After 30 minutes, when the yellow flames have disappeared and you see orange coals: close (horizontal) the "smoke outlet" valve and close the two doors. Don't worry closing it completely, the right amount of air will still get in and out.
- * For 4 hours you should not touch the stove anymore. That means no longer adding pieces of wood for 4 hours.
- * After 4 hours, you can turn on the stove again, if necessary, over the few remaining coals.
- * Do not take off the ashes before restarting!
